

SPEAKER BIO

Edward Pike is the creator of LightWarrior.Pro and co-founder of Find Your Magic Retreats and the Find Your Magic Studio.

He specialises in helping mission-driven professionals and business owners (aka 'lightwarriors') to show up in a more powerful and purposeful way so that they can do more of what they love and help create a better world.

He has 14 years of experience working with groups and individuals as a certified personal trainer, Core Energetics therapist and spiritual life coach, alongside 8 years as a creative consultant, photographer and videographer for freelancers and businesses in the fields of personal development, wellness and travel.

His approach is a unique blend of coaching, fitness, body-mind therapy, Human Design and creativity: over his 14+ years in the fields of personal development and creative freelancing, he has honed his gift to help people uncover their unique strengths and bring their highest vision to life. He calls this approach "Find Your Magic" and it is the foundation of his coaching programs, retreats and creative services.

He teaches his clients how to access the power of their body, harness their natural gifts and talents, and live according to their uniqueness: that sweet spot between who they are as a person (their experiences, challenges and struggles) AND what they do as a professional (their unique methodology, philosophy and perspective).

His work frees people up from learnt ideas of what they need to do in order to succeed so that they can claim their space in the world and create the wealth and impact they seek - without sacrificing their health, relationships or careers.

Edward's methodology is rooted in the premise that we each have a unique power within us: a specific way to live, do and create that we were designed for. Owning this creative power is the key to creating a better life for ourselves, our clients and our community, and to playing our part in shaping a more connected and more loving society.

His passion for personal development, creative expression and social impact led him in 2023 to create LightWarrior.Pro, a platform for him to share his insights, experiences and resources with a wider audience.

Edward is committed to empowering 'lightwarriors' to live a life of purpose and impact, and he believes that by working together, we can create a brighter future for all.
